

TRANSFORM YOUR LOGISTICS PERFORMANCE WITH OUR ADVANCED PLATFORM

CASE STUDIES

CASE STUDIES 01

A clothing company based in China needs to ship its products to customers in the US. They use the Goitrise platform to coordinate the pickup of their inventory from multiple suppliers and consolidate the shipment into a single warehouse.

Thanks to inventory visibility and shipment tracking, the company can meet delivery deadlines and keep its customers informed about the progress of their orders.

CASE STUDIES 02

An electronics distributor in Mexico needs to ship large shipments of televisions and mobile devices to retail stores across the United States. They use the system to reserve space in a warehouse on the US west coast and consolidate their shipments in one place. Thanks to your inventory management tool and the ability to track shipments, the company can ensure that products reach retailers on time and without problems.

CASE STUDIES 03

An exporter of meat from Argentina needs a logistics solution to transport their products to the US and store them until distribution. With the platform, the exporter can manage the inventory of meat in various warehouses and ensure that orders are delivered on time to their customers in the country.

CASE STUDIES 04

An organic producer in the US that needs a logistics service provider (3PL) to store and distribute their products in the country. With the system, the producer can find and hire a 3PL to take care of storage, order fulfillment, and shipping of their products to their customers across the country.

CASE STUDIES 05

A European furniture factory that exports to the US and needs a logistics solution to store and distribute its products in the country. With the platform, the factory can reserve space in the most convenient warehouses and coordinate the fulfillment of orders and shipments to their customers in the country.
